TEN CENTS PER WEEK

GET DEPOSITIONS IN DICK FOWLER'S CASE AT ST. LOUIS

Testimony of Crew of Lilly Taken as to Charges of Misconduct on Part of Paducah Boat During Presidential Trip

WILL NOT PAY ANY MILEAGE

Capt. Mark Cole, master of the Dick Fowler, has returned from St. Louis, where depositions were taken in the case of the government against the Fowler for misconduct on her trip down the Mississippi. The depositions were given by the crew of the steamer Lilly, which filed the charges and will probably be all that will be used in the prosecution of the charge. It is believed that the evidence adduced will not be sufficient to hold any officer of the Fowler liable. A popular impression is that the charges are against Captain Cole personally when they are against the boat and the investigation will be to find out who, if any one, was guilty of misconduct. The first hearing will be had at Cairo, the date for which has not been set.

The fact that the government does not pay mileage of per diem to witnesses for the defense in trials of charges of misconduct has caused river men to start a movement to get the law or ruling changed and a rule issued that will, at least, pay witnesses mileage. The government to pay where charges are not sustained and the offending boat where the charges are sustained.

DENIED INJUNCTIONS.

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 7.—Judge Hooper, of the circuit court, today denied Attorney Steven R. Moore's application for an injunction restraining the playing of football by high school students on the ground that it was prize fighting. Moore declared he will appeal the case. In denying the injunction, Judge Hooper ruled that boards of education have no right to interfere with the pleasure, or training of school children after school hours, and the private citizen has no right to interfere in such matters unless he has sustained some pecuniary injury.

Judge Lightfoot Predicts Lower Tax Rate For McCracken Next Year-- The Fiscal Court is in Session Today

The county is in better financial condition today than it has been for 50 years, is the declaration of County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, and he predicted a reduction in the county tax rate next year. The report of the treasurer made to the fiscal court this morning shows more than $10,000 in the county levy fund, with more than $4,000 outstanding, $21,000 in the road fund and over $2,000 in the pauper fund. The sinking fund amounts to more than $114,000. "I will say this," stated Judge Lightfoot, "we shall have a reduction of at least 2 cents in the county tax rate next year. The present rate is $1.25 per $100, which was a reduction of 7 cents from the former rate. The county has not been in a better condition financially for the past fifty years. There have been many improvements made, too, and expenses from many sources."

STUYVESANT FISH SEEKING PROXIES FOR I. C. MEETING

New York, Nov. 7.—When asked whether he would send to the stockholders of the Illinois Central a request for proxies for the meeting to be held in Chicago December 18, Stuyvesant Fish, who is contesting the election of new directors with E. H. Harriman and the latter's associates, said: "I certainly shall. I understand that Hackstaff has just sent out a request for proxies running to President Harriman and himself, and has done it officially as secretary of the company, although the board of directors has in no way directly or indirectly authorized it. The result of Hackstaff's action has been to put many stockholders upon the inquiry and they have asked me what I am going to do. I have told all of them they should not comply with Hackstaff's request, which is clearly another move for Union Pacific dominance, and I am asking the stockholders to await proxies which I shall send out forthwith."

DRUNKEN BRUTE ASSAILS WOMEN ON CITY STREET

An unknown drunken man created excitement in the neighborhood of Ninth and Clark streets yesterday afternoon, putting women in terror and causing a general alarm to be sent into police headquarters. He escaped before patrolmen were able to reach him.

Mrs. D. H. Littleton, of 1620 Clay street, accompanied by a seven-year-old boy, was returning home about, after visiting on the south side. Near Ninth and Clark a strange white man accosted her. He swore at her and approached threateningly. She screamed and walked rapidly to get out of his way. He followed a short distance, but finally turned back. Other women who appeared on the street were abused and sworn at by the drunken man. Police have a description of him.

TICKET IS SAFE AND BECKHAM IS TO BE DEFEATED

Democratic committeemen received telegrams this morning from Henry Hines, state chairman, advising them to count every vote, as he has not given up the entire state ticket, below Lieutenant governor. It was also rumored that Attorney H. Corbett has been retained by the state and county committee to bring action against the election commissioners to throw the count into court. Mr. Corbett was seen by a reporter for The Sun this afternoon and he said he knows nothing of it.

Beckham is beaten.

The following special was received from The Sun's correspondent at Louisville at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon: "The Republican campaign committee states that Wilson has won by 17,000, and the other candidates by not less than 15,000. There is no truth in the Democratic claims that the tall of the ticket won."

The legislature is close. The Democrats will have a majority of six on joint ballot. Republicans have 32 and probably 54 members of the house. Tarleton beats McChord 1,137 leading is elected to the court of appeals by 500 to 1,000.

"The Courier-Journal says Beckham surely will be defeated for senator as it is certain some of the Democrats will knife him. There may be a deadlock."

A petition is being circulated, instructing the McCracken county representative to vote for Henry Waterson.

Park and Bagby & Martin are conducting the case for the plaintiff. Edward O. Rhodes, of Newark, N. J., attorney for the company, is also attending the trial.

Head Democrat

THOMAS TAGGART.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 7.—An effort to secure an order to burn the gambling paraphernalia found in Thomas Taggart's French Lick resort, consisting of faro tables, roulette wheels, slot machines, and other devices, was thwarted by Judge Baskirk, of the circuit court, today. He ruled that the act of 1907 does not apply to the apparatus now in possession of the state, and there must be a conviction of the person or persons operating the gambling room before the outfit can be destroyed.

LOCAL INTEREST CENTERS AROUND COUNCIL MAKE UP

Interest in the local political situation centers on the make-up of the next general council, which promises to be a deadlock along party lines in both boards. However, members-elect state that they will be disposed to compromise on such questions as are of a purely partisan nature, and the personnel of the Democratic caucus indicates that the Republicans will be met half way.

The hold-over aldermen are: E. W. Baker, Ed D. Hannan and P. H. Stewart, Democrats. The aldermen-elect are: Virgil Sherrill, Democrat, and Harry H. Hank, G. M. Oehlschlaeger, C. H. Channin and W. T. Miller, Republicans. All the Republican aldermen have had experience. Aldermen-elect Oehlschlaeger in the council, and the others in the board of aldermen.

The hold-over councilmen, all Democrats, are: Councilmen R. H. Lindsey, First ward; D. M. Flournoy, Jr., Second ward; A. Foreman, Third ward; Ernest Lackey, Fourth ward; and R. J. Wilson, Sixth ward. Bower, Sixth ward, all Republicans.

The Organization. There is talk of re-electing C. C. Lindsey, Democrat, president of the lower board. He is a hold-over member, and has always been fair in his attitude. Alderman Channin is mentioned as the probable president of the aldermen.

A city physician, market master, weighmaster, and license inspector will be chosen by the general council before January 1. Dr. H. F. Williamson is now city physician; George Lehnard, license inspector; C. E. Bell, marketmaster, and Frank Dunn, weighmaster, and A. Bundman, sewer inspector.

It may require the official count to decide the result of the councilman race in the Fifth ward between Frank Mayer and James McCarty, and in one or two of the school trustee contests. The election board meets Friday to canvass the returns. The Republican campaign committee nudged all bills this morning and by night will have paid off every obligation. W. T. Miller was chairman of the finance committee and all bills were paid in cashiers' checks.

ROOSEVELT WOULD BE STRONG MAN FOR PRESIDENCY

Timothy L. Woodruff of New York Recognizes President's Popularity and Believes He Will Be Nominated—Nebraska Is For Another Term

GOVERNOR DECLARES FOR HIM

New York, Nov. 7.—Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff, of the Republican state committee, wired the president today that the Republican victory in King's county was due to Roosevelt's strength in Brooklyn. He said he believed the demand would be that the president would be obliged to accept the renomination.

Woodruff had been asked where he stood on the presidential situation, when he replied: "I propose to adopt a new policy—a policy of silence, but I don't mind expressing my opinion that the demand for the renomination of Theodore Roosevelt will be so strong next spring that the president will be obliged to accept the nomination. Every indication points to his being swept into office by an overwhelming vote."

"Under the leadership of Roosevelt in the nation and of Hughes in the state, the rank and file of the Independence League will, in my judgment, vote hereafter with the Republican party."

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 7.—While looking over the returns showing a big Republican victory in Nebraska, Governor Sheldon declared unequivocally for Roosevelt for a third term, saying he must accept.

Besides the great interest that is manifested by local people in the opening of the rink Mr. Crumbaugh has been informed that a party of twenty from Cairo will be present. The $3,500 mechanical military band has been placed in position and will be used on the night of the opening. People who have visited skating rinks in the large cities say the skating floor of the auditorium is one of the finest they ever saw and are enthusiastic over the arrangements of the auditorium.

FIRST DISTRICT MAJORITIES FELL TO ONE HALF NORMAL MAKING VICTORY CERTAINTY

EVERYTHING WILL BE CONSIDERED IN TIME AND PLACE

Mayor-elect James P. Smith said this morning that he had not yet given any consideration at all to appointments. "Those things will be considered in due form and due time," he said to a reporter for The Sun. "I am absolutely unpledged and shall carefully consider every application for a position, no matter whose it is or for what position it is."

Telegrams of congratulation continue to come in from all over the state to Mr. Smith today, and a great many from outside of the state, and he has been almost as busy receiving congratulations this morning as he was yesterday.

D. A. R. MONUMENT TO BE UNVEILED EARLY IN SPRING

Metropolis, Ill., Nov. 7.—(Special).—Unveiling of the D. A. R. monument in Fort Massac has been indefinitely postponed, and probably will not take place until spring. The special session of the legislature has ruled plans for an immediate presentation to the state, and wintry weather will work further postponement.

Governor Deneen, Secretary of State Rosco and other state officials are on the commission, and would have to be present to formally receive the monument.

The shaft is partially completed and probably will be entirely completed by the presentation date.

JOHN K. HENDRICK LED HIS TICKET BUT IS DEFEATED

"I am glad it's all over," was the expression that came from almost every professional man visited by a reporter on his usual rounds this morning when the election was mentioned. A majority expressed themselves as satisfied with the outcome, while no one attorney expressed it. "I did not get what I voted for, yet the more I think of the result the better I like it."

Some interest was given the situation last night by a telegram to Hon. John K. Hendrick from Henry H. Hines to the effect that while Hager was defeated by a large majority, the rest of the ticket might pull through. Col. Hendrick smiled as he read the telegram, but did not give credence to the information it contained.

"I am sure that I led the ticket and Hager fell behind all, yet I am satisfied that I am defeated," said he.

Colonel Hendrick is much gratified by the vote he received and takes his defeat philosophically. About the only regret expressed by Paducah Democrats is that Mr. Hendrick was defeated.

Almost universal opinion is that Gov. Beckham was to a large extent responsible for the defeat of the ticket and many prominent Democrats are outspoken in the opinion that he should be defeated in his race for the United States senate. In fact, a petition is already talked for, asking the representative-elect to vote against Beckham, should he continue in the race when the legislature meets.

Contest in Fayette.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 7.—Thomas L. Walker, chairman of the Republican campaign committee in this county, authorizes the statement this morning that the Republicans will contest every office in Lexington and Fayette county. Chairman Walker said this morning: "We had been at every precinct making notes of every indication of fraud and the result shows that startling irregularities were going on all over the city. We will go back to the registration, where hundreds of legal voters were shut out, and where hundreds of illegal voters were registered by the Democrats. The contest will be conducted on the same lines as that in Louisville last year."

Tarleton's victory over McChord for railroad commissioner is assured. Lassing was easily defeated. The house will be about evenly divided. The Republicans may have one or two majority. The Democratic majority on joint ballot will not be over 5. The anti-Beckham Democrats will attempt to cause his defeat.

THEATRICAL NOTES

"Zira"

In "Zira," the play in which Mabel Montgomery, the young emotional actress, is to be seen at The Kentucky November 7, the role of "Hester Trent," enacted by Miss Montgomery deals with the full price the young woman has to pay to the world for a sin. In this case Hester Trent was more sinned against than sinning, but nevertheless as is brought out clearly in the play with a masterful hand, by the authors Messrs. Henry Miller and J. Hartley Manners, the world's point of view is not always the wise or just.

Robbed of her standing through a false marriage, into which she was tricked by a scoundrel already married, Hester Trent, though a mere slip of a girl, is forced to take her place among the workers of the world, and endeavor to remove the stigma that is attached to her for the error into which she fell.

In this virile and powerful play the playwrights have followed closely the thrilling story of "Little Collins," "The New Magdalen," on which the plot has been based. The time, certain locales and names have been changed, but the real plot of the story—the struggle of Hester Trent to regain her good name, and to live down the infamy by assuming the name and place of another have been followed faithfully and closely.

It has been the unanimous opinion of the play reviewers that Miss Montgomery has made something very fine and human and appealing of this Hester Trent.

The dread part of the young girl, the dread present with its fear of discovery, the terrifying future which would be hopeless if the fearful incidents of the past were revived—all these according to the critics, are brought out with magnificent force by Miss Montgomery.

HOME KIDNEY CURE.

To make up enough of the "Dandelion treatment," which is claimed to be relieving nearly every sufferer who uses it for backache, kidney complaint, sore, weak bladder and rheumatism; get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Compound Kardon and three ounces Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

Those who have tried it claim that it nets gently but thoroughly on the kidneys, relieving backache and bladder trouble and urinary difficulties almost instantly. Many cases of rheumatism are known to have been relieved within a few days, the pain and swelling diminishing with each dose.

A well-known local druggist, who is in a position to know, asserts that this prescription, wherever it becomes known, always ruins the sale of the numerous patent medicine rheumatism cures, kidney cures, etc. It is a recipe which the majority of patent medicine manufacturers, and even certain physicians dislike to see published. Few cases, indeed, which will fail to fully yield to its peculiarly soothing and healing influence. Being composed of common every-day ingredients, which can be had from any druggist, it makes up a good honest and harmless remedy at a nominal cost.

CUT IN HOURS

ACCEPTED GOOD NATUREDLY BY ILLINOIS CENTRAL CARMEN.

Contract With Road Is for Nine Hours But Men Recognize an Emergency.

Notwithstanding the existence of a contract between the road and carmen on the Illinois Central a cut in the work day of Paducah Illinois Central car repairers went into effect today. Each year the road and carmen enter into a wage scale, and one stipulation of the contract is that, except in "real emergencies," the work day shall be not less than nine hours. This morning the car department, employing nearly 300 men, was put on an eight-hour work day, the same as the mechanical department. Little dissatisfaction was evidenced, the men taking the cut philosophically.

RICH WOMAN CHARGES PLOT BY RELATIVES TO ROB HER.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 7.—Three weeks ago Mrs. Eliza R. Kelley, 70 years old, a wealthy and prominent Brookfield woman, went to live with relatives in Chicago. Letters received in Brookfield from her asking for help say she has been confined in an insane asylum near Chicago because her relatives plot to get her money. Among those to whom letters were sent are the Rev. W. L. Walsh, Mrs. Susan Flits and E. A. Colburn.

Mr. Colburn, who bought the home of Mrs. Kelley last July, and with whom the aged woman resided until her departure from Brookfield three weeks ago, said:

"I received a letter from Mrs. Kelley this morning saying that she was confined in an asylum near Chicago at the instigation of her relatives. She wants some one to go to Chicago and get her out of her place of confinement, so she can return to Brookfield."

"I think Mrs. Kelley has been put in this asylum by relatives who wish to get the woman into a place where she cannot prevent them from getting their hands on her money."

"Mrs. Kelley lived with my family, and during all the time I knew her I never saw her act other than in a perfectly sane manner."

STOMACH IS SEAT OF HUMAN LIFE

New Theory Advanced by Young Man is Spreading Over Entire Country.

L. T. Cooper's theory concerning the human stomach, which he claims to prove, with his new medicine, is being given more respect and comment every day.

Cooper claims that 99 per cent of all ill health is due to stomach trouble. When interviewed about his theory recently, he said: "Stomach trouble is the great curse of the 20th century so far as the civilized races are concerned. Practically all of the chronic ill health of this generation is caused by abnormal stomachic conditions. In earlier days, when the human race was closer to nature, and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their frugal existence from the soil, the tired, drooping, half-sick people that are now so common, did not exist."

"To be sure there was sickness in character and only temporary. There those days, but it was of a virulent none of this half-sick condition all the time with which so many are afflicted nowadays."

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble. The human stomach in civilized people today is degenerate. It lacks tone and strength. This weakness has gradually come through a sedentary existence. I further know that few people can be sick with the digestive apparatus in perfect shape. The sole reason for my success is because my New Discovery medicine tones the stomach up to required strength in about six weeks' time. That is why I have had more people come and thank me wherever I have gone to introduce my medicine, than I have had time to talk with."

Among the immense number of people who are now strong believers in Cooper's theory and medicine is Mrs. M. E. Delano, a prominent resident of the suburb of Brookline, Boston, Mass. She says: "For several years I was broken in health, caused primarily by stomach and nerve troubles. I gradually became worse, until recently I was compelled to go without solid food for days at a time. I had sour stomach, palpitation of the nerves of stomach and heart, dyspepsia, and extreme nervousness. I suffered terribly with insomnia, and my liver, bowels and whole system gradually became deranged. I felt instant relief the first day I began this Cooper medicine. I now feel like a new being. Today I walked all over town, shopping—something I have not done for years."

"I make this statement wholly from a sense of duty. I feel I owe it to anyone who might find relief and renewed happiness as I have done."

This record made by the Cooper medicine is astonishing. We will take pleasure in forwarding it with anyone who wishes to know about them.—W. B. McPherson.

WHISKY SHIPMENTS STOPPED.

Money Stringency Is Felt In Peoria's Big Industry.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 7.—No internal revenue tax was collected in the fifth internal revenue district today for the manufacture of spirits owing to the refusal by New York banks to honor drafts from the Peoria banks. The demand for cash has had the effect of temporarily stopping shipment of whisky from Peoria. The distilleries are running as usual, but no goods are taken out of the bonded warehouses.

LITTLE GIRL SUFFERED LONG.

Then Great Remedy Cured Skin Disease Which Had Gained Foul Foothold.

The medical world, and especially the cutaneous experts of the medical world, are considerably stirred over the latest reports of the daughter of W. E. Koch, the real estate and insurance man of Huntington, Ind., who suffered for such a long time with what was looked upon as an incurable skin disease.

Mr. Koch was referred by a friend to the wonderful liquid remedy, D. D. D. Prescription, which is a specific for eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barbers' itch and other diseases of the skin.

Almost the first application on the little girl's delicate skin caused the itch to go away and her skin began to heal.

Mr. Koch, writing about the case, says: "We have used D. D. D. Prescription and find it the best we ever tried for eczema. Our little girl was afflicted with this disease for several years. We tried everything we ever heard of and nothing did her any good until we heard of your remedy. We used four bottles and it cured the child. That was eight years ago and the disease never has returned. I can recommend your D. D. D. highly to any one aeted with eczema."

D. D. D. Prescription is a purely vegetable external remedy that is applied direct to the terrible itching parts. It gives relief instantly and almost immediately the signs of a cure are seen. A short use and the terrible itching scales fall off, the skin cools, the inflammation goes away and soon it is white and healthy. This remedy follows the principles of the latest learned skin specialists that eczema is in the skin, not in the blood, and consequently should be treated through the skin and not through the stomach.

This remedy is on sale at R. W. Walker & Co.'s, Fifth and Broadway. If you come in we will show you some convincing letters and other literature which will give all skin sufferers some good advice about dieting, bathing, etc. We also sell D. D. D. Soap.

BECKHAM, A SCAPEGOAT.

Well along in the state campaign
The Sun observed that in the event of Hager's defeat, which seemed probable, and the election of a Democratic legislature, still more probable, the gang might turn on Beckham and defend him for United States senator, notwithstanding the fact that he was nominated at the state primary. Before the first shock of the election news died out, there were heard mutterings against Beckham. He is to be made the scapegoat for the whole iniquitous machine, of which he was the better part. Henry Hines, Hager, Percy Hilly, et al, may purge the party by throwing Beckham overboard and perpetuating themselves in power. Governor Beckham was the only link between the gang and respectability. There is no doubt, if the sentiment of the party will stand for it, the machinists will double cross Beckham. They have the Louisville Times, the Cincinnati Enquirer and the Courier-Journal in hearty sympathy with any movement to assassinate Beckham, and two months in which to create the proper sentiment in the state.

Poor Democracy! If she sends Beckham to the senate, she will do it grudgingly. If she rejects him she is guilty of a breach of promise.
Even popular primaries have their drawbacks, haven't they?

This certainly was no Bryan year.
The heavens may be more propitious next year, but when one considers the two trips the "Peerless One" made through Kentucky and the hard fight he put up in Nebraska, one can not help but wonder if he is not a dead one. Bryan, you know, said the election in Kentucky this fall would have a marked influence on the national election next fall.

The result of the local option elections in southern Illinois may aid the efforts of Kentucky promoters in securing contributions from that section to bridge the Ohio river and construct Interurban lines.

FINANCIAL LEGISLATION.
Talk of financial legislation to make our national currency more elastic may be indulged with more freedom now, than twenty, or even ten years ago. Then a cry would have gone up from the Democratic masses, led by the men, who knew Jackson, that the government is run in the interest of the bankers. Such an idea as tampering with the currency system, except to open the flood-gates of the mints and admit debased metal to unlimited coinage at a flat ratio in the expectation of making everybody rich, would have defeated any congressman a decade or two ago, and might have jeopardized the popularity of the national administration itself.

But now everybody realizes the necessity. Just what bankers have been saying for a long time has been demonstrated to the good people.

There is no panic, there is no constitution of progress and prosperity, conscience, far from being shaken by the New York flurry, has been made manifest, and yet, we are doing business with cashiers' checks, until gold importations from Europe replenish the channels of trade, and frightened depositors in New York put their money back.

Like a mobile army of willing units, the currency goes in volume; west to move the grain crops; south to move the cotton crops; with deployed lines into Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee to buy the tobacco, and so on, keeping local financiers busy, preparing to meet these periodical drafts on resources.

Perhaps, it was a providential thing this stringency occurred just to warn the people to remedy the existing defects in our currency system before it happens again some time during an industrial depression.

How are the renegades and traitors today?

According to William E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald, the extraordinary high prices, which we must pay for necessities, obtain in Europe, where cheap labor also is an economical factor to be considered.
So our brethren of the minority, who poluted to the cheapness of living under free trade in Europe, and were blind to the low wage scales, have another prop knocked from under their argument.

Ilion, John K. Hendrick, in the hour of defeat, enjoys the satisfaction of knowing that conditions in his party, which he exposed four years ago, are responsible for the result.

Both boards of the general council promise to be tied; but there is a disposition apparent among the members and members-elect to be liberal in their views. The vote at the city election shows a mighty liberal tendency among their constituents, which should influence the officials in their conduct of office.

German Lloyd Company Will Provide Kitchens.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Efforts of the International Jewish Territorial organization to obtain special kitchens and other arrangements on the ocean liners to America have resulted in success.

The North German Lloyd company has agreed to provide accommodations particularly for the Jews, and a meeting of the officers of the steamship company and the Jewish association was held today to perfect the plan. The conference was attended by Israel Zangwill, president; Clement Salaman, honorary secretary of the organization, and representatives of the Bremen relief committee for indigent Jews.

It has been decided that a hotel in Berlin shall be placed exclusively for the disposal of Jewish emigrants.
This hotel will contain, in addition to "kosher" kitchen, a prayer and a reading room. The kitchen will be under the supervision of the chief rabbi and all Jewish emigrants will take their meals in the hotel.

Special ritual kitchens will be instituted on the large trans-Atlantic liners running to New York and Boston, under the supervision of the Bremen rabbinates.

The crews and ship authorities of the North German Lloyd and the agents at the emigration control stations have received instructions to make every allowance for the religious and national feelings of the Jewish passengers.

Mauretania Sets Speed Mark.
London, Nov. 7.—The officers of the Cunard Steamship company announce that the Mauretania, on its trial trip, has beaten the Lusitania.
The run was from Carrowell Point to Land's End, a distance of 300 miles, and the Mauretania maintained a speed of 27½ knots.

"So you are writing stories," said the friend. "Not exactly," answered the cynical literateur; "I am merely

BLINDFOLDED

A Mystery Story

"I shall not touch him. I'm no assassin!" I exclaimed indignantly. "The law shall take him, and I'll see him hanged as high as Haman."

"The law! oh, my liver—the law!
How young you are, my boy! Oh, ho, oh ho!" And again she absorbed her mirthless laugh, and gave me an evil grin. Then she became grave again, and laid a claw on my sleeve. "Take my advice now, and get on the train."

"Not if!" I returned stoutly.
"I'm doing it for your own good," she said, with as near an approach to a coaxing tone as she could command.
It was long since she had used her voice for such a purpose and it grated.
"For my sake I'd like to see you go on and wipe out the whole raft of 'em. But I know what'll happen to ye, honey. I've took a fancy to ye.
I don't know why. But there's a job on your face that carries me back for forty years, and—don't try it, dearie."

There were actually tears in the creature's eyes, and her hard, wicked face softened, and became almost tender and womanly.

"I can't give up," I said. "The work is put on me. But can't you help me?

I believe you want to. I trust you.
Tell me what to do—where I stand.
I'm all in the dark, but I must do my work."

It was the best appeal I could have made.

"You're right," she said. "I'm an old fool, and you've got the real sand.
You're the first one except Henry Wilton that's trusted me in forty years, and you won't be sorry for it, my boy.
You owe me one, now. Where would you have been to-night if I hadn't had the light doused on ye?"

"Oh, that was your doing, was it?
I thought my time had come.""Oh, I was sure you'd know what to do. It was your best chance."

"Then will you help me now?"
The old crone considered, and her face grew sharp and cunning in its look.

"What can I do?"

"Tell me, in God's name, where I stand. What is this dreadful mystery?"

Who is this boy? Why is he hidden and why do these people want to know where he is? Who is behind me and who threatens me with death?"

I burst out with these question passionately, almost frantically. This was the first time I had had chance to demand them of another human being.
Mother Horton gave me a leer.

"I wish I could tell you, my dear, but I don't know.""You mean you dare not tell me," I said boldly. "You have done me a great service, but if I am to save myself from the dangers that surround me I must know more. Can't you see that?"

"Yes," she nodded. "You're in a hard row of stumps, young man."
"And you can help me."

"Well, I will," she said, suddenly softening again. "I took a shine to you when you came in, an' I says to myself, 'I'll save that young fellow,' an' I done it. And I'll do more. Mr.
Wilton was a fine gentleman, an' I'd do something, if I could, to get even with those murderin' gutter-pickers that laid him out on a slab."

She hesitated and looked around at the shadows thrown by the flickering candle.

"Well?" I said impatiently. "Who is the boy, and where is he?"

"Never you mind that young fellow. Let me tell you what I know.
Then maybe we'll have time to go into things I don't know."

It was of no use to urge her. I bowed my assent to her terms.

"I'll name no names," she said.

"My throat can be cut as quick as yours, and maybe quicker.""The ones that has the boy means all right. They're rich. The ones as is looking for the boy is all wrong.
They'll be rich if they kits him."

"How?"

"Why, I don't know," said Mother Horton. "I'm tellin' you what Henry Wilton told me.""This was mad talk. I began to suspect that she knew nothing after all.""Do you know where he is?" I asked, taking the questioning into my own hands.

"No"—stoutly.

"Who is protecting him?"

"I don't know."

"Who is trying to get him?"

"It's that snake-eyed Tom Terrill that's leading the hunt, along with Darby Newker; but they ain't doing it for themselves."

"Is Daddie Knapp behind them?"

The old woman looked at me suddenly in wide-eyed alarm."S-sh!" she whispered. "Don't name no names.""And is this all you know?" I asked in disappointment.Mother Horton tried to remember some other point."I don't see how it's going to keep a knife from between my ribs," I complained."You keep out of the way of Tom Terrill and his hounds, and you'll be all right, I reckon.""Am I supposed to be the head man in this business?"

"Yes."

"Who are my men?"

"There's Wilson and Fitzhugh and Porter and Brown," said she named ten or a dozen more.

"And what is Dicky?"

"It's a smart man as can put his finger on ticks Nahl," said Mother Horton spitefully.

"Nahl is his name?"

"Yes. And I've seen him hobnob with Henry Wilton, and I've seen him thick as thieves with Tom Terrill, and which he's thickest with the devil himself couldn't tell. I call him Slippery Dicky.""Why did he bring me here tonight?""I hearne there's orders come to change the place—the boy's place, you know. You was to tell 'em where the now one was to be, I reckon, but Tom Terrill spoiled things. He's lightning, is Tom Terrill. But I guess he got it all out of Dicky, though where Dicky got it the Lord only knows.""This was all that was to be had from Mother Horton. Either she knew no more, or she was sharp enough to hide a knowledge that might be dangerous, even fatal, to reveal. She was willing to serve me, and I was forced to let it pass that she knew no more.""Well, I'd better be going then," said I at last. "It's nearly 4 o'clock, and everything seems to be quiet hereabouts. I'll find my way to my room.""You'll do no such thing," said Mother Horton. "They're not given up the chase yet. Your men have gone home, I reckon, but I'll bet the saloon that you'd have a surprise before you got to the corner.""Not a pleasant prospect," said I grimly."No. You must stay here. The room next to this one is just the thing for you. See?"She drew me into the adjoining room, shading the candle as we passed through the hall that no gleam might fall where it would attract attention."You'll be safe here," she said, "Now do as I say. Go to sleep and sit some rest. You ain't had much, I guess, since you got to San Francisco."

The room was cheerless, but in the circumstances the advice appeared good. I was probably safer here than in the street, and I needed the rest.

"Good night," said my strange protectress. "You needn't sit up till you get ready. This is a beautiful room—beautiful. I call it our bridal chamber, though we don't get no brides down here. There won't be no sun to bother your eyes in the mornin', for that window don't open up outside. So there can't nobody git in unless he comes from inside the house. There, git to bed. Look out you don't set fire to nothing. And put out the candle. Now good night, dearie."

Mother Horton closed the door behind her, and left me to the shadows.
There was nothing to be gained by sitting up, and the candle was past its final flick. I felt that I could not sleep, but I would lie down on the bed and rest my tired limbs, that I might refresh myself for the demands of the day. I kicked off my boots, put my revolver under my hand and lay down.

Headless of Mother Horton's warning I left the candle to burn to the socket, and watched the flickering shadows chase each other over walls and ceiling, finally dropping off to sleep.

The Health in Winter.
The best way to keep in good health in the winter is to pay just a little attention to the body physically, and y proper attention to diet and nature's warnings, avoid sickness.

More and more each year the profession is getting away from the theory of always dosing for disease, as cure and a preventive, and preferring natural treatments. We are hus getting closer to nature, and nature, as a restorer of the spent igor and health, is coming into its right and just recognition.

The bath is one of the aids to nature is now given its due credit and attention. The cold bath in the morning imparts vigor and starts the ay off with a tonic effect.

One of, if not the greatest baths science has developed is the dry hot ir treatment. In this the temperature can be run up to 300 degrees, not by a process which gives a free irradiation of air through the machine, the heat is never oppressive.
This treatment opens thoroughly the ores of the most obstinate skin and uts it in good condition, and by the perspiration assists nature in eliminating the impurities from the system.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the most depressive, they are tonic, and or the tired-down, worn-out system, t is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially is this so, when the treatment is followed by the osteopathic treatment.

I am giving these treatments with marked success, and shall be pleased to tell you how and why it is such in a few moments, as well as refer you to Paducah people who will personally attest to the merits of them.

day along the line of "More Progressive Work for Schools." The educational department had co-operation with every movement for the betterment of the Paducah schools. Under its auspices a "School Improvement Club" will be organized at once at the Jefferson building. Miss Alice Compton and Mrs. Thomas Turner will attend the District Educational association at Mayfield November 29 and 30, as representatives from this department. Mrs. Edmund M. Post, third vice-president of the state federation, will possibly attend also. Mrs. Elbridge Palmer and Miss Compton were made press-committee from the department to see that special prominence is given to some of the school improvements for Kentucky advocated by the federated women's clubs in the local papers. The state president stresses the importance of Kentucky's educational needs as follows:

"Mrs. Letcher Riker, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, calls the attention of every woman's club in Kentucky to the fact that on November 19, 20 and 21 the Kentucky State Development association will meet in Louisville. Although the federation of clubs is interested in all matters for the advancement of Kentucky it is especially interested in educational conditions and wishes to co-operate with the association to its utmost strength for their betterment. The State Development association stands for development along all lines, and one of its aims will be to make the state's school system second to none to free Kentucky from its handicap of illiteracy and place it where it belongs—first, not thirty-seventh or forty-second. In the roll call of educational statistics, R. N. Roark and Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, with members of the educational committee of the state federation in Louisville, have been appointed by the state president to represent the sympathy and the hearty co-operation of the State Federation of Women's clubs in the work of the association. All clubs are urged to interest and co-operate with this work. Twelve clubs in Louisville and fifty-two others throughout the state, it is hoped, will take active interest in this matter. Dr. Hewitt, of Central University, on behalf of the Presbyterian synod of Kentucky, recently secured the adoption of the following resolutions:

"That we heartily sympathize in the movement of the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs for the betterment of our public schools in Kentucky."

"That we heartily endorse the work of organizing School Improvement leagues, and as an organization and as individuals we pledge our support to such associations."

DENEEN SENDS SPECIAL MESSAGE

Urging Passage of River Bill With Emergency Clause

Assembly Adjourns to Nov. 26 After Appointing Conference Committee.

PRIMARY BILL NOVEMBER 14.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—Speaker Shurtliff appointed the following conferees on the primary election bill: Oglesby, Chipperfield, Lindly, Behrens, Shannahan, Patterson and Daugherty. Lieutenant Governor Sherman appointed the following as senate conferees: Berry, Action, Hamilton, Danlap, Gardner, Juul and Burton.

The conference committee will meet Thursday, November 14. Both houses adjourned until Tuesday, November 26.

Governor Deneen sent a special message to the legislature urging it to pass a bill with an emergency clause to maintain the present status of the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers, and not to permit the attacking of the vested rights of the state before the people have voted on the constitutional amendment, voting $20,000,000 for the construction of a deep waterway.

The Governor's Message.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—While the general assembly is in recess the members will have an opportunity to ponder over the statements laid before them today by Governor Deneen in his special message on deep waterways. In addressing the legislature the governor calls attention to the physical condition existing along the route of the proposed ship canal and points out that unless immediate steps are taken to prevent the creation of additional property rights along the waterway, the people in the general election next fall, will defeat the proposition for a $20,000,000 bond issue to raise funds for digging the canal. The proposal for bond issue is to be submitted to the people on the representation that water power created by a waterway will be of sufficient value to the state to meet the interest on the bonds, pay the principal when the same shall become due, and thereafter bring a large annual rental to the state treasury. If this power is to be acquired by private interests it is pointed out that the people will reject the proposition to spend money for the work which will incidentally create this power.

Governor Deneen's message was laid before the assembly just before that body adjourned for a recess until November 26. When the houses' action in refusing to concur in the senate amendment to the Allen-Lantz "navigability" bill, was reported to the senate today, Schmitt entered a motion to rescind from the senate amendment which removed the emergency clause from the measure.

Consideration of the motion was made a special order immediately after the reconvening of the assembly. If the senate then passed the bill with the emergency provision intact, the attorney general and governor may proceed to remove all obstruction from the waterway channel. The senate will find before it Lantz's joint resolution, adopted by the house yesterday, repudiating the lease drawn by the Illinois and Michigan canal commission, whereby the Economy Light and Power company of Joliet acquired a tenure of state land at Dresden, Heights. Without this leasehold the company will be unable to proceed with work on its dam at that point.

SAVES LUNCH; LOSES LIFE.

Practical Jokers Cause the Death of Lineman Who Was Killed
in Midair.

New York, Nov. 7.—His efforts to save his lunch from the vandalism of joking fellow workmen cost Alexander Dalyborax his life. He was a lineman employed by the New York Central railroad and was working on the wires just north of the Morris Heights station, near Highbridge. When he arrived for work Dalyborax carried his lunch box to the top of a pole and left it there, as the workmen had been in the habit of substituting stones and other things for the food they find in each other's lunches.

At noon Dalyborax climbed the pole to get his lunch. Suddenly his foot came in contact with two live wires that carry the electricity that supplies the third rail. He fell forward, and for a time the body was suspended in midair, head downward while his fellow employees looked on, powerless to release him. The electricity at last burned through the imprisoned leg, and the body dropped almost at the feet of the men looking on.

CURRENCY

MORE FLEXIBILITY DEMANDED
IN OUR PRESENT SYSTEM.

President Roosevelt Requested to Recommend Some Remedial Legislation.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt has been asked to recommend to congress that serious consideration be given to some proposition for providing a flexible currency system. He will make such recommendation, but in a guarded way, because neither the president himself nor any one else has yet been able to devise a system which is free from serious objection. It is naturally ensipr to point out things which should not be done.

Every one understands the present difficulty is a money stringency entirely, and is not due to any condition of insolvency. There is a crying need of more currency just at this particular time. Six months from now there may be too much currency. The problem is to regulate the relation between supply and demand of money exactly as in case of any other commodity. It would be easy enough to increase the supply of money. Congress could do that by a stroke of the pen. The danger would be that it would provide too much money or it would provide no means of reducing the amount after the usual demand had disappeared. Plans Numberless, Yet Indefinite.

The cry for flexible currency is not at all a new one, nor is the scheme for providing currency based upon the general assets of banks and not upon metals or upon government bonds. They used to call it the Baltimore plan years ago. Then this kind of currency was talked of as asset banking notes, and last of all they have been termed guaranteed credit notes, or something of that kind. They are as numberless as the sands of the sea, and congress has never yet been presented with any scheme of currency reform in the direction of a flexible note system which has been likely to meet with the approval of anywhere near a majority of the membership. The Democrats have been split up on it and so have the Republicans.

ANTI-MORMONS IN BIG VICTORY.

American Party Elects Mayor and Carries Salt Lake City Council.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 7.—Municipal candidates of the American (anti-Mormon) party, will have the largest plurality ever given in this city. Bransford for mayor will have from 7,000 to 10,000 plurality over Plummer, Republican, and Morris, Democrat, whose strength is very evenly divided. The Americans will control the council. They have been in power for the past two years.

He was arrested a few days ago at Clinton on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was originally sentenced to be hanged for the murder, committed at Paragould, Ark.

Italian Government Tries A Former Minister For Defrauding the State.

Rome, Nov. 7.—Before the senate, sitting as high court of justice, the trial of Sig. Nunzio Nasi was commenced today, with Nasi, who formerly was minister of public instruction, on the stand.

Sig. Nasi, with Michael Lombardo, former under secretary of finance, are charged with defrauding the state out of several million lire. In addition to being Italy's first great "graft" scandal, the case has been made remarkable by the impeachment of the minister of public instruction, the first incident of the kind in the country's history. The trial has been preceded by great excitement through Italy and Sicily. Both the accused men are Sicilians, and their claim of innocence and charge of political persecution have led to the fear of a serious uprising in Sicily in the event of their conviction.

Nation Hent by Charges.

The feeling for and against the accused has been so great from the time their prosecution was determined upon that the authorities allowed them to be imprisoned in their own homes instead of sending them to jail. This, however, did not prevent serious rioting in Sicily in the prisoners' favor, as well as at Reggio di Calabria. At one time the agitation in Sicily was so intense that 300 men were landed at Messina from the battleship Sardegna in order to maintain order, and artillery was posted in the streets of Palermo.

The Italian supreme court in June last decided that the assize court was not competent to try the charges against Nasi. This decision was celebrated throughout Sicily, and Nasi was given the freedom of his native town, Trapani. It finally was decided to try the two men before the senate, sitting as a high court of justice.

Sig. Nasi's appearance before that body today furnished a remarkable spectacle. He did not appear as an accused man, but as a powerful and fascinating orator. During his speech many senators, including Visconti Venosta, left their seats and drew near his chair, the better to hear him.

Accused Minister's Defense. Sig. Nasi spoke eloquently for five hours. He denied all the accusations brought against him. He insisted that he he judged as a minister, and that the duties and responsibilities inherent to that position be taken into consideration. He maintained that what appeared to be speculation was in reality money spent for certain purposes that he would never reveal were it not necessary to do so for his own defense. He declared that part of the money in question had been spent to secure the family of Deputy Viorio, a republican, after his death, while other sums had been used to subvention a scholastic newspaper published in Milan to support the policy of the government in the matter of education.

Sig. Nasi then alluded to the money that had been paid to Ottavio Sordi that had been paid out to carry on the government's plans for the peaceful penetration of Tripoli. This statement created a profound impression. Referring to Tripoli the speaker said: "If Italy today did not have a single man on the shore opposite Sicily she would have to send men over to occupy this territory."

Missouri Insurance Probe On.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 7.—Judge George F. Longan, appointed by Chief Justice Gantt, of the supreme court, to take testimony on the application of Attorney General Hadley to ascertain if insurance companies doing business in Missouri have formed a trust to fix and maintain prices for insurance, began the hearing here today. Sixty-nine fire insurance companies were represented. W. H. Vandiver, superintendent of the state insurance department, said rates were practically the same in every community. J. W. Garvey, manager of the Mutual company in Kansas City, said rates were the same for all companies in his part of the state.

PARTIES UNITING FOR DUMA.

Constitutional Democrats and Octoberists Plan Co-operation.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The line of action to be followed by the new duma will be determined this week by conventions to be held by two of the leading parties. The constitutional Democrats met Thursday at Helsinki, Finland. A certain degree of co-operation between the Constitutional Democrats and Octoberists in forming a working parliament is now assured, the fusion having been forced by the monarchists.

who, at a conference held in Moscow today, adopted the following motion: "Remember your duty is not participation in the labors of the duma, but the destruction of this body."

It is known that many men who were elected under monarchist colors in reality are moderates and that they will co-operate with the moderate group in parliament. At the second elections held in the big cities today a considerable decrease in the vote was observed.

ALL MONEY LOOKS ALIKE TO US

CASHIER'S CHECKS are a straightforward business proposition of the banks temporarily. They are to circulate as currency, be taken and given in change as money. This is the store that believes in your intelligence; that don't think you need to be hired to take cashier's checks, nor that it is necessary to try to make you think that they are worth more than gold, silver and currency. It is the value of our merchandise and the low price that brings us your patronage. There are many stores that can afford to give you even a $1.10 worth of their merchandise at their prices for any kind of a dollar. Making a bid for the public patronage and use of cashier's checks needs no diplomacy finesse or sharpness in its management. Plain, clean honest methods are what the public tie to. These methods you will find in full force here at all times. We attribute our success in a great measure to their practice.
